

What's a NATIVE plant?

*A plant that has evolved in a given place over a period of time sufficient to develop complex and essential relationships with the physical environment and other organisms in a given ecological community.

~ Rick Darke and Doug Tallamy, The Living Landscape

